President Trump Proposes the Elimination of IMLS; Library Supporters Asked to Contact their Representatives

IMLS (Institute of Museum & Library Services) is eliminated in President Trump's 2017-2018 federal budget proposal. IMLS represents all federal funding for libraries. IMLS funds are distributed to states; the Missouri State Library uses IMLS funds for its LSTA grants.

If the federal budget is approved in its current form and IMLS eliminated, the library would no longer be able to apply for competitive LSTA grants. The library has received many of these grants over the past five years for a new server, time and print management software, and other items. The library planned to use LSTA grant funds to offset the cost of self-check systems and other equipment and services in its new branches.

In addition to the loss of competitive LSTA grants, the Missouri State Library would no longer be able to offer statewide courier service. Currently, the State Library provides two free days of courier service to all Missouri public libraries. Scenic Regional Library pays for an additional three days of service each week as do many other libraries in the state. If the statewide courier service is eliminated, Scenic Regional Library could most likely pay for courier. However, many other smaller Missouri Evergreen members cannot afford to pay for courier. As a result, the consortium will be in serious jeopardy. Scenic Regional would have no way to transfer items between other Evergreen members other than traditional mail, which is unaffordable.

In addition, Missouri Evergreen annual fees are subsidized through the State Library with LSTA funds. As a result, many members would not be able to afford the increased fees and be forced to leave the consortium. The library transfers over 5,500 requested items each month.

Quality public library service is not a partisan issue. Scenic Regional Library encourages its patrons to contact their representatives in Congress as soon as possible and ask that IMLS funding be preserved in the federal budget. Congressional staff members keep track of calls from constituents on both sides of issues and pass the information along to the elected officials.

Teens learned about watercolor painting and adding their own touches to anime art at the Hermann T.i.L.T. program on April 12.

Kids at the Sullivan branch made sock bunnies during Kid's Club on April 17.

Library Staff to Appear on Local Radio Stations Every Month

Beginning in May, the library will be interviewed on two local radio shows each month. The library director and other staff have appeared for interviews on the stations multiple times over the past few years, but this is the first time they have been scheduled as regular monthly guests.

On the first Wednesday of each month from 8:30-9:00 AM library staff will appear as a regular guest on The Morning Show with Diane Jones. The show broadcasts on KLPW-AM 1220 AM. The station broadcasts from Union, Missouri, and also operates KLPW 92.7 FM.

On the fourth Thursday of each month the library staff will also appear on Livewire, hosted by Mike Thomas, on KWRE AM 73 (730 AM) from 9:30-10:00 AM. The station broadcasts from Warrenton, Missouri, and also operates KFAV 99.9 FM.

The library director and other staff will alternate appearing on the programs each month. In May, Assistant Director Megan Maurer and Youth Services Librarian Christy Schink will appear on both programs to talk about the library's summer reading program. Warren County branch manager Madison Morris will join them for the interview on KWRE AM 73.

Books Placed in Franklin County Judicial Center for Prospective Jurors

Scenic Regional Library provided three dozen paperback fiction books to the Franklin County Judicial Center on April 20. The books will be available for prospective jurors to read while awaiting trial. The books were selected from among items donated to the library for upcoming book sales. As a result, if a prospective juror is enjoying a book while waiting, they can take the book home and keep it. The library will visit the Judicial Center periodically to replenish the supply. People cannot bring their cell phones or other mobile devices into the Judicial Center. If the service proves to be successful, the library will offer it to Warren and Gasconade County courthouses later this year.

A monthly publication from your local library!

Franklin County Branches Designated as Safe Place Sites

The library's branches in Franklin County will be designated as Safe Place sites beginning May 1. The program does not cover Warren or Gasconade Counties. Union branch manager Diane Disbro initiated the library's involvement in the program. National Safe Place is a non-profit organization based out of Louisville, Kentucky. The organization provides immediate help and support for children and adolescents who are "at risk" or in crisis situations. The purpose is to defuse a potential crisis situation as well as provide immediate counsel and support so the child in crisis may be directed to an appropriate shelter or accredited care facility.

Businesses and community buildings such as fire stations and libraries are designated as "Safe Place" sites. Any youth in crisis can walk into one of the nearly 20,000 Safe Places across the country and ask an employee for help. These locations display the yellow, diamond-shaped Safe Place sign on their location. Inside, employees are trained and prepared to assist any young person asking for help. Basically, there is a hotline number for the staff to call. Youth who go to a Safe Place location are quickly connected to the nearby youth shelter. The shelter then provides the counseling and support necessary to reunify family members and develop a plan to address the issues presented by the youth and family.

Library Accepting Construction Bids for the New Facilities

On April 17, the library began accepting bids from general contractors for construction of its seven new facilities. The construction documents have been placed on the library's website at www.scenicregional.org/bidinfo. Bids are due May 13. The library's administration and architects hope to interview the finalists the following week.

Contractors can bid on all seven projects, a single branch location, or only a few branch locations. The contractor or contractors which provide the best and lowest overall cost for the library will be selected for the project. The Library Board will approve the contractor or contractors recommended by the architects and administration at their meeting on May 23.

The library anticipates that construction will begin shortly after the contractors are selected and approved.

New Haven Branch Manager Retires

New Haven branch manager Kate Haynes retired from the library on April 28. Ms. Haynes has been branch manager at the New Haven branch since August 2013. She has worked for Scenic Regional Library since December 2007. Prior to her promotion to branch manager, she worked at the Union branch.

A retirement reception hosted by the New Haven Friends of the Library will be held at the New Haven branch on Monday, May 1, from 2:00-4:00 PM.

Rachel Terbrock, who has been the library's St. Clair branch manager since January 2017, will transfer to New Haven. She will begin her duties as the new branch manager on May 1.

Over a four-week span, the library held ground breaking ceremonies in seven communities. State legislators, county commissioners, city elected officials, and library foundation members were guest speakers at the events.

Attendance at the events varied from 27 at the St. Clair branch to 109 in New Haven. Despite rain, 48 people attended the ground breaking in Owensville. In Wright City, where the library does not currently have a branch, 43 attended the event. In Sullivan, which only joined Scenic Regional Library in 2015, 38 people attended the ground breaking.

The library received great coverage in the local newspapers, including the section front-page in St. Clair, Pacific, and other communities. The Owensville and New Haven branches' Friends of the Library groups held receptions after the events in their communities.
