members will be up for re-election next year, including State Reps. Dave Hinson, R-St. Clair, Paul Curtman, R-Union, and Justin Alferman, R-Hermann.

Committees representing members of the Missouri Legislature recently filed quarterly disclosure reports with the Missouri Ethics Commission.

At the close of the reporting period, June 30, Alferman’s committee had $11,516 on hand; Hinson’s committee, $9,870; and Curtman’s committee, $30,696.

Alferman and Curtman said Friday that they plan on running for re-election in 2016, and Hinson has said he would be interested in serving another term.

The primary election is Aug. 2, 2016, which is less than a year away. The annual salary for House members is $35,915.

State representatives serve two-year terms, and are limited to eight years in the House. Hinson and Curtman would only have one more term left after their current terms.
