New Children's Programmer At New Haven Library Branch

In January, the Scenic Regional Library-New Haven branch welcomed new Children's Programmer Jenny Potter.

In addition to working at the circulation desk at the branch, Potter is the new friendly face at library storytimes, children's programs, and reading to the children at local pre-schools.

"I believe that reading is important for all ages," she said. "It is a powerful foundation on which a child will grow and achieve. I am excited to be here at Scenic Regional Library in New Haven. I look forward to meeting the children and their families that live in this wonderful community.

"Besides reading books to children, I enjoy doing activities and am excited about the programs that I am planning for the children and youth of New Haven."

She previously worked as a secretary with the School District of Washington's Early Learning Center.

"I enjoyed interacting with the children there, and now, here at the library. My husband and I are also excited about our upcoming relocation to New Haven. We currently live in Washington and are building a home here in New Haven."

The library invites everyone to come and meet Jenny and the folks at the Scenic Regional Library in New Haven. Preschool Storytime is held every Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. and the third Saturday of every month at 10 a.m.

Children's programs are also conducted on a monthly basis, so watch the newspaper and visit www.scenicregional.org for further details. The library is located at 901 Maupin and will be moving to its new building on Douglas Street in May.
