Author returns to Warrenton

W. Walton St.
Library is closed through August and September, this event will be held offsite at the Warren County History Museum, 102

Blogger and author Cameron Collins is coming back to Warrenton to talk about his new book, "St. Louis Brews: The History of Brewing in the Gateway City."

Collins will discuss how St. Louis has shaped the brewing industry and how brewing shaped the city.

The book features hundreds of historical images and goes back more than 200 years of brewing history, through lagering caves, malt houses and beer gardens, alongside legendary brewers.

His previous book, "Lost Treasures of Saint Louis," was released in April 2017. The book examines places, events and items connected to St. Louis and are part of its identity to locals and outsiders. He visited with Scenic Regional Library in Warrenton to discuss that book in September.

Collins' blog is called "Distilled History."
