

Library Celebrating Harry Potter's 20th

Scenic Regional Library's New Haven branch is celebrating Harry Potter's 1998 debut in the U.S. when the first book of the series was published by Scholastic.

Twenty years and eight films later, the Harry Potter phenomenon has remained a fixture in libraries across the country.

To celebrate, New Haven's branch is hosting, "Harry Potter is 20!" This is a costumed event for adults and children alike on Thursday, November 8, from 6-8 pm.

Activities include Professor Trewlaney's reading tea leaves, having your Hogwarts house determined by the Sorting Hat and testing your taste buds with some tricky jelly beans.

Be sure to check out the library's fireplace and other areas to experience some of the books' iconic scenes while enjoying additional activities.

You can RSVP by calling the library or registering at Scenic Regional's events page, <https://scenicregional.org/events/>.
