

ing for a total of 72,021 registered voters."

Door explained active voters are those voters who have voted in recent past elections.

The inactive voters are those who have been sent election notification notices and they have come back to the county with no forwarding address.

Pending are those voters who have registered, but not voted yet.

More Time

With one of the longest ballots in state history this November, voters may want to plan a little extra time at the polls.

In addition to the heated U.S. Senate race, the Nov. 6 ballot in Franklin County will feature a congressional race, four state representative races, a state Senate race and numerous uncontested races for county offices.

And, there's more.

Voters also will be asked to decide four constitutional amendments and three additional propositions ranging from minimum wage to marijuana to a gasoline tax.

The seven ballot initiatives make the November ballot crowded.

In fact, the November 2018 ballot will feature the third highest number of ballot initiatives in the last

"There may be a line at the polls, but we'll get everyone processed as soon as possible," Door said. "Anyone in line at 7 p.m. will be allowed to vote."

Door added this is the longest ballot that the county has ever had.

"We've set up extra voting booths to allow everyone to take their time," she said. "It will take a few seconds longer to run the ballot through the ballot box because we have a 17-inch ballot, front and back. We are asking everyone to wait till their ballot has completely been fed into the black ballot box before they leave the box. We are also asking for voters to be patient."
