Library Begins “Floating” Entire Collection

On May 1, the library will begin “floating” its entire collection between branches. When a patron returns an item they requested from another branch it will stay at the branch where it was returned instead of being returned to its original location. The library’s computer system automatically changes the item’s location to the new branch upon check-in.

The benefits of a “floating” collection are that it constantly changes the collection at each branch, which gives patrons different titles to browse each time they visit; and reduces wear and tear on items because they don’t have to be shipped back to their original branch through the courier when they are returned.

On November 1, 2018, the library began “floating” its movies on DVD and large print collections. The six-month trial with movies on DVD and large print books was considered successful.

The new Hermann branch manager, Tina Coates, got into the spirit of National Library Week by dressing in Hermann school colors.

Staffing Increased at New Branches

Due to a dramatic increase in usage over the past year, the library has created eight new part-time positions at its branches this spring. Over the last five months, checkouts have increased an astonishing 31% across the nine-branch system, along with a 38% increase in visitors and double-digit surge in computer usage.

The library received a grant from the Missouri State Library last year for self-check systems at most of the new branches. While self-check has been popular, with about 20% of the library’s checkouts being done at the kiosks, they haven’t relieved enough of the workload for branch staff.

July is usually the library’s busiest month, with Summer Reading Program and school being closed, but usage in March 2019 was similar to July 2018. As a result, the library expects record-breaking usage this coming summer.

The positions have been added at the St. Clair, Wright City, Sullivan, New Haven, Pacific, and Owensville branches. Altogether, the additions represent an increase of over 6,500 hours of part-time staff annually throughout the system. Two of the new positions were added in March. The library plans to have the other new staff hired and trained prior to the beginning of Summer Reading Program.

More Local Historical Newspapers Digitized

On April 19, the Missouri State Historical Society informed the Library that they completed digitization of the New Haven Leader from 1918 to 1977 and Gerald Journal from 1916 to 1921 and 1928 to 1962. The content, which encompasses 51,800 pages of newspapers, became available to the public online on April 22. The Missouri State Historical Society was able to digitize the newspapers with remaining funds from existing digitization projects.

Since 2015, the library has partnered with the Missouri State Historical Society and received multiple digital imaging grants to digitize over 350,000 pages of local historical newspapers. The collection includes 30 newspapers from Warren, Gasconade, and Franklin counties spanning between 1843 and 1977. Users can search the entire newspaper collection with a simple keyword search either at the library or online from home. The collection can be found by visiting: <https://scenicregional.org/local-historical-newspapers/>. The library previously digitized the Gerald Journal from 1922 to 1928 and from 1962 to 1965, as well as the New Haven Leader from 1903 to 1918.

The only remaining local historical newspapers existing on microfilm which the library has not digitized (prior to 1965) are the Hermann Advertiser-Courier and Meramec Valley Transcript. The library plans to digitize the Meramec Valley Transcript in 2020. The newspaper, originally published in Pacific, is available on microfilm from 1895 to 1995.

The Hermann Advertiser-Courier has been digitized from 1875 to 1922. However, due to copyright law, the library is unable to digitize content after 1922 without the publisher’s permission. The Advertiser-Courier is owned by Lakeway Publishers, based on Morristown, Tennessee; the company has refused to give or sell the library permission to digitize the newspaper.

Cake Pans Available for Check-out

In April, the library began offering cake pans for check-out. The collection consists of 72 pans throughout the library system and includes a variety of shapes, such as Darth Vader, Harry Potter, a T-Rex, a train, a Christmas tree, and a t-shirt. Each pan can be borrowed for two weeks and renewed once. Borrowing a cake pan is free, but if it is returned dirty there is a $5.00 cleaning fee.

Each branch has a binder containing color photographs of all 72 cake pans in the library's collection. If a particular cake pan is unavailable at a patron's local branch, they can place a hold on it, like they would a book or DVD.

Franklin County Master Gardeners' Garden Tour

Scenic Regional Library and the Washington Public Library will be selling tickets for the Franklin County Master Gardeners' 2019 Franklin County Garden Tour from May 1 until June 8. The tour, which is scheduled for Saturday, June 8, from 9:00 AM to 3:00 PM, will include at least seven gardens in Union, St. Clair, and the Pacific area. The library will only be selling the tickets at its Pacific, Union, and St. Clair branches. Tickets are $15.00 each and all proceeds go to the group's community educational programs in horticulture and local school scholarships. The Franklin County Master Gardeners have the garden tour every other year.

Staff Spotlight: Kecia Children's Programmer, Sullivan Branch

How long have you worked for Scenic?
 Three years in June.

What made you want to work in a library? When I saw the ad in the paper I was a stay-at-home mom at the time and our town had just joined with Scenic Regional Library. After reading the job description, I knew that I wanted to be a part of offering great things for not only my children but the children of my community at the library to maybe help them grow a love for reading. The library was a big part of my childhood and I wanted to help make that possible for others as well.

What is your favorite part of the job? I have many favorite parts to this job. First, the community involvement just amazes me. Children know me and when they see me out in the town they light up saying, "There's the library lady!" Another favorite part of this job is the people. It's easy to grow close to your co-workers and your patrons when you see them on a daily basis but the best part is when you get to know their favorite authors and make their day when you find a new book for them!

What do you wish more people knew about the library? It still amazes me that people think that they have to pay to come to our programs. It's not just cheap, it's free!

What upcoming program at your branch are you excited about and why? The upcoming program that I am excited about would have to be the Dome Theater! Space is always an amazing thing and to be able to experience a little bit of that here at the library will be pretty awesome.

What is your favorite book? My favorite book would have to be any of the Little House on the Prairie books. I was a child who had a hard time finding the right kind of book and my third grade teacher introduced me to this series and I instantly fell in love.

Patrons at the Sullivan branch learned string art at a Pinterest Craft Night.

Patrons in Wright City enjoyed a month of Mindfulness with teacher Janice.
