ENDOWMENT for the ARTS

NEA BIG READ

Managed by Arts Midwest

Scenic Regional Library has been awarded a prestigious NEA Big Read grant. NEA Big Read is a program of the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA) in partnership with Arts Midwest. The library is partnering with Washington Public Library, East Central College, East Central Area Literacy Council, and the Scenic Regional Library Foundation on the grant.

The NEA awards only 78 Big Read grants to non-profit organizations and public libraries throughout the entire country each year. The NEA Big Read grant is Scenic Regional Library's first federal grant and first community-wide read.

The objective of the NEA Big Read is to get as many people as possible in a community to read and discuss the same book. The NEA provides a list of 32 books from which applicants for the grant can choose. The library and its partners selected Station Eleven by Emily St. John Mandel. The 2014 novel takes place in the Great Lakes region after a flu pandemic has devastated the world, killing most of the population. It won the Arthur C. Clarke Award, given for the best science fiction novel, in 2015.

The $15,000 grant will provide funds for a wide range of programming based on the themes of the book. During the six-week period between September 24 and November 5, the library and its partners will present 77 free programs and book discussions throughout the three-county area (Gasconade, Franklin, and Warren). The programming will culminate with a visit from Station Eleven author Emily St. John Mandel at the John Edson Anglin Performing Arts Center at East Central College on November 5. She will be interviewed by Mike Thomas, host of Livewire on KWRE 730 AM in Warrenton, followed by a book signing.

Scenic Regional Library's Friends of the Library groups in Union, St. Clair, Warrenton, Pacific, and Owensville have agreed to purchase a total of 750 copies of the book for local high school English classes. Eight public and private high schools in the three-county area have agreed to participate in the NEA Big Read by incorporating Station Eleven into the curriculum of their senior English classes. The schools are Owensville High School, Pacific High School, St. Clair High School, St. Francis Borgia Regional High School, Union High School, Warrenton High School, Washington High School, and Wright City High School.

Scenic Regional Library will purchase an additional 1,000 paperback copies of Station Eleven for the high schools and public through Neighborhood Reads in Washington. Free copies of the book will be available at the library's branches, Washington Public Library, and other locations beginning September 3. E-book and e-audiobooks copies will also be available on the library's website.

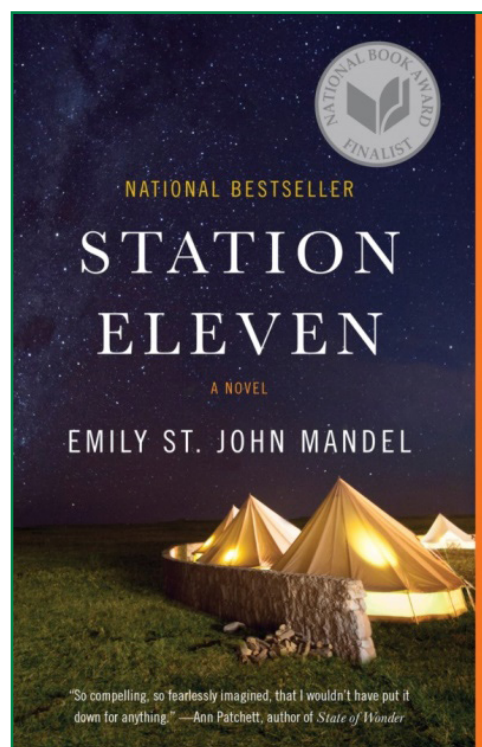

East Central College Library will purchase copies for their students; East Central Area Literacy Council will purchase copies for East Central College's Adult Education & Literacy (AEL) students. Both organizations will also host book discussion groups.

All local media outlets in the library's three-county district have agreed to be sponsors for the library's NEA Big Read: Missourian, Warren County Record, Sullivan Independent News, New Haven Independent, Gasconade County Republican, Hermann Advertiser-Courier, KWRE (730AM), KLPW (1220AM), and KTUI (1560AM).

Other sponsors include United Bank of Union, Bank of Washington, Bank of Franklin County, and Neighborhood Reads.

For more information about the NEA Big Read, including details about getting a free copy of Station Eleven, programming, and book discussion groups, visit www.scenicregional.org/bigread.

New Haven Friends Donate Raised Flower Bed

The New Haven branch Friends of the Library donated a prefabricated raised planter bed in June. The 3' x 6' x 16" bed was assembled adjacent the branch's children's patio.

On June 18, children at the branch's storytime planted flowers in the raised bed along with some Friends members.

The project was funded through a $400 donation by the Friends group, combined with a $250 Thrivent grant. The Friends members applied for the grant.

The New Haven Friends of the Library has the largest active membership among the library's nine Friends groups. Shari Althen is president of the group.

Friends Group Donates Digital Sign to Owensville Library

The Owensville Friends of the Library has donated a digital monument sign to their branch. The sign was installed on May 29 by Ziglin Signs in Washington in front of the library, along Highway 19. The branch will use the sign to publicize upcoming programs and events. The Owensville branch is the only Scenic Regional Library facility with a digital sign. It can be updated wirelessly by the branch staff.

The cost of the sign was $30,000. The Friends' group contributed $22,500; the library, $7,500. The purchase represents the largest donation to the library by one of its Friends groups.

The Owensville branch's Friends of the Library has been the most successful Friends groups in the library system and until the purchase of the digital sign had the largest bank balance. The Friends of the Library's funds are generated from annual membership dues, book sale proceeds, fundraising events, and donor wall "book" sales. All funds raised by the group remain earmarked for the Owensville branch.

Last summer, the group held an enormously-successful fundraiser to auction naming rights to different sections of the library. The auction event had a large turnout and raised $5,500, more than any other branch's auction event throughout the system.

The group also sold close to 100 donor wall "books", more than any other Friends group in the library system. The wooden "books" are engraved with the name of an individual, organization, or business, and placed permanently in the branch's entrance hallway. They were sold for $100, $200, or $300, depending on the size of the "book". Owensville branch Friends of the Library members, along with Owensville representatives on the Scenic Regional Library Foundation Board of Directors Doug Dunlap and Diane Lairmore, sold the "books" over the past two years. One-third of all donor wall "books" sold throughout the library system were sold in Owensville. The concept of selling the donor wall "books" as a fundraiser was actually Ms. Lairmore's idea.

Last year, the Owensville branch Friends of the Library group purchased the materials and volunteered their time to construct a butterfly garden, located adjacent the children's area. The stone-framed raised bed contains plants and flowers which attract butterflies. The Owensville branch Friends of the Library group has thirty-five members. The current president is Trudy Oberbeck.

Several Sullivan patrons participated in "Pinterest Craft Night: Northern Lights Canvas Painting." All the paintings were beautiful and unique!

Staff Spotlight: Linda Library Assistant, Wright City Branch

How long have you worked for Scenic?
Four years.

Have you held any other positions at Scenic? I spent most of those four years as a Library Assistant at Warrenton. I transferred to Wright City last August.

What made you want to work in a library? The library was one of my favorite places when I was little, especially during the Summer Reading Program. I'd check out stacks and stacks of books, as many as my mom and I could carry.

What is your favorite part of the job? I love validating fellow nerds who hesitate to let their geek flag fly. They'll visibly brighten up when I start talking anime, comics, Star Wars, or any of my other nerdy pursuits with them and it's the best feeling.

What do you wish more people knew about the library? The library is a lot more than a building with books. We have public access computers, wifi, and so many other resources like free online tutoring and research databases for all ages.

What upcoming program at your branch are you most excited about and why? I really like our Out of This World Wednesdays that we've had going on since June. Every Wednesday at 2 p.m. we show a family friendly sci-fi movie including two of my favorites, Galaxy Quest and The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy.

What are you currently reading? It's hard to make time between work and grad school, but right now I'm reading all the manga I can get my hands on, especially Kimi Ni Todoke by Karuho Shiina.

What is your favorite book? Why? Choosing just one is impossible! A Little Princess by Frances Hodgson Burnett, Eight Days of Luke by Diana Wynne Jones, and Natsume's Book of Friends by Yuki Midorikawa are some of the first titles that come to mind, but I could come up with so many more! These three are in my top because they have some of my favorite things: fairy tales, mythology, sympathetic protagonists, and found families.

The St. Clair branch hosted a Star Party and telescope training for their patrons, including star gazing with their new-found knowledge. They even got to see Jupiter and 4 of its moons!

Former Hermann Branch Manager Appointed to Library Foundation Board

The Scenic Regional Library Board of Trustees voted unanimously to appoint former Hermann branch manager Sheri Hausman to the Library Foundation Board at their May 21 meeting. The three-year term will begin on July 1. Ms. Hausman retired from the library on March 29 after working at the Hermann branch since 1986.

The Scenic Regional Library Foundation is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization with a twelve-member Board of Directors. The organization oversees the library's nine Friends of the Library groups.

Nine librarians from Missouri attended Show-Me Library Legislative Day at the U.S. Capitol in Washington, D.C. on June 18. The Missouri delegation included Scenic Regional Library's Assistant Director, Megan Maurer. Ms. Maurer visited with U.S. Representative Jason Smith, 8th congressional district; U.S. Representative Blaine Leutkemeyer, 3rd congressional district; and Missouri's two U.S. Senators, Josh Hawley and Roy Blunt.

The key issue this year is Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) funding. IMLS funds represent all federal funding for public libraries. The Missouri State Library utilizes IMLS funds for statewide courier service between public libraries for interlibrary loan, to subsidize Missouri Evergreen consortium fees, to offer competitive technology grants for public libraries, and other services.

President Trump has proposed completely eliminating IMLS funding from the federal budget on multiple occasions. The U.S. House of Representatives has approved maintaining IMLS funding at the same level as last year; the U.S. Senate has not yet approved their version of the budget.

EMT's Kenneth & Julia brought an ambulance to storytime at the Owensville branch. Families had the opportunity to tour the vehicle and learn about the profession of an EMT.

St. Clair Kids Club made bracelets by spelling out their initials in binary code. There was a lot of creativity going on!
