"Boeiff Island Farmers Plan River Protection"
Judge J. H. Schaper of Washington, and Paul Korman and George Meyer of Peers, went to Kansas City Monday to meet with the Missouri River Commission with reference to the proposed work along the river at Boeiff Island.

The land owners on Boeiff Island are anxious that more protection be given their lands from the river.

It seems that a great deal of help may not be expected from the government at this time, and the Boeiff Island people propose to finance all or part of the work provided the river itself and the necessary experienced men can be secured. The soil on the island is as good as any in the state and should be properly protected by dikes or levees or revetment.

"High School Play"

Miss Mollie Schlanker of Warrenton were married in St. Louis, November 3. The groom is a son of Judge and Mrs. Henry Schewe, and the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Schlanker. The couple will go to housekeeping on the Henry Lix farm near Pendleton.

Frank A. Schlanker of Warrenton and Miss Mary L. Durmeier of Jonesburg were married Wednesday, November 9, 1921. Mr. Schlanker is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Schlanker and at present is the proprietor of a restaurant in Warrenton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Durmeier of Jonesburg.

Cook was sandblasting underneath the Highway 47 bridge when he fell and vanished a little after 11 p.m. on the 26th. He was employed by Thomas Industrial Coatings, Inc. of Pevely. The body was found with a canvas painter's suit but did not appear to have on a life jacket or safety harness, the report stated. Federal work safety regulations require workers on such jobs to wear life jackets and require protection against falls. It was stated that company supervisors reported Cook was wearing a life jacket and harness at the time of the fall.
